BAY HIGH CHEERLEADERS get their "revenge" on football referee Kenneth Green after the Tiger's loss Friday night to the Petal Panthers. Cheerleaders Carol Sue Banderet, Mary Henderson, Kathy Allison and Mario Brelaud, (standing, left to right), are about to show Green that they thought he misjudged a lateral play which resulted in Petal's first touchdown. Bay High coach Lance Lumpkin, standing at right, has a gleam of approval in his eyes. The scene is a Hattiesburg restaurant where the remote radio show was operating. Hancock county sport fans will remember referee Green, who officiated at many boxing events at Bay High's gymnasium. (Sports story inside)

J. Willis Hughes no. 3 State of Mississippi offshore venture in the Bay of St. Louis was at a depth of 9,160 feet Wednesday of a slated 10,000 foot test.

Hughes has shut down his No. 1 State of Mississippi in Mulatto Bayou, at 10,949 feet and is waiting on the outcome of the Marshall R. Young well before deciding if the test should be drilled deeper.

The limit on air mail is two pounds, and thirty inches in length and girth combined.

Mayor John Scaffide said today that his office has received many complaints about the using of firearms in the Bay St. Louis city limits, and also stated that air rifles are illegal.

BE SURE TO VOTE TUESDAY

Hancock Goes to Polls Tues To Signify Presidential Choice

Hancock county's 3,000 voters will go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots in a Presidential election that will also select the sixth district representative to congress and the second district supreme court judge, and will decide on the passing of a proposed amendment to the state's constitution.

Bay St. Louis five precincts will open at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning with the county's twenty opening at 8 o'clock. All 25 will remain open until 6 o'clock Tuesday night, with all registered voters within the precinct building still allowed to cast their ballot.

Gov. James P. Coleman is backing the Democratic ticket of Adlai E. Stevenson and Estes Kefauver.

However, in 1950 Gov. Hugh White supported Dwight D. Eisenhower and Richard Nixon—also this year's Republican ticket—while the voters of Mississippi elected eight electors for Stevenson and his running mate, Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, 172,566-to-112, 966.

Hancock county favored Stevenson, 1,578-to-1,347.

In the 1952 election a small party failed to post a threat. However, in 1948 the States Rights party carried Mississippi with Gov. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina the nominee for president and Mississippi Gov. Fielding Wright running for vice-president.

Hancock county supported the State Righters, 1,400 votes to Truman's 222, while the Republican nominee, Thomas A. Dewey and Earl Warren, failed to receive a vote locally. State wide, the ticket of Thurmond-Wright collected 167,533 votes to Truman's 19,384 and Dewey's 5,043.

Four groups of electors appear on this year's ballot.

While the Democratic Party of Mississippi will have eight electors on the ballot, two groups have pledged their support to the Republican ticket. Mississippi's Republican party and the Mississippi Black and Tan's Grand Old Party each will have eight electors pledged to Eisenhower and Nixon.

The National States Rights party, running T. Coleman Andrews, former internal revenue chief, and Thomas Werdal, former republican congressman from California, will have eight unpledged electors for independent candidates.

William M. Colmer is unopposed for congressman from the coast's sixth district and Lee D. Hall is unopposed for supreme court of the second district.

A proposed amendment to the state's constitution will be voted on, with the gist of the proposal being the changing of the date of collecting the personal tax. The personal tax is due the first of January, and the resolution seeks to have the date changed to October, the month when the motor vehicle tag is due.

Names appearing on the ballot for the Nov. 6 regular election will be as follows:

Lakeshore Notes

By Mrs. Malcolm B. Green

Wednesday evening Oct. 17, Mrs. Eldredge Garcia gave a surprise party for her daughter Rebecca Nobles, who celebrated her 13th birthday on that day. So many of Becky's school mates and relatives attended that the civic hall was filled to overflowing. Music was furnished by Gordon Garcia Jr., Marvin "Red" Ladner, Melvin Lusch, and Kenny Ray Ladner. Helping Mrs. Garcia serve were Mrs. John Erskine, Mrs. Myrtle Poolson and Mrs. Arvine Garcia. Everyone had a wonderful time and Becky received many beautiful gifts.

The handmade quilt recently won by Tommy McCardie netted $116.00 for the St. John's Church building fund. Thanks are extended to all who participated.

Mrs. John Hourbeight of Lyman, was a Monday morning visitor of Mrs. Malcolm Green enroute to New Orleans to begin her pre-holiday work at D. H. Holmes.

Sunday Nov. 4th at 2 p.m. a shooting match for four pigs will be held at the civic hall for the Children's Christmas Party. There will also be a cake walk and games of interest for young and old. Be sure and come and bring a cake or other prizes. Thanks.

Miss Lillian Ryan of Ocean Springs, was a week end visitor to the home of Mrs. Sidonia La Fontaine.

The people of Lakeshore wish to extend thanks to Mr. Hubbard for the excellent job his work crew did in cleaning the Lakeshore cemetery. In answer to the many inquiries about the new fence, there should be some headway on that very soon.

Lucky winners at the Elvin Garcia Shooting Match were Arthur Miller, Lacey Green, Elvin Garcia, Mrs. C. E. Tricke and R. J. Asher. Winners at the Town and Country Lounge were "Bessie and Shirley," and Mrs. Mae Bosarge.

Friends of Mrs. Clarence Green are happy to hear that she and her sons escaped serious injury when her car turned over in the ditch near the old Cooney place.

Author To Attend Local Production of His Play

By VICKI L. HILL

For the first time since the inception of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre, the author of the production will be present to see his brain child in action.

New Orleans - born William Fulham will be in the audience for two of the performances of "To My Husband," the successful three-act comedy which will be presented by the local theatre on November 8th, 9th and 10th.

It is this writer's opinion that Mr. Fulham will find the effort rewarding since the play seems exceptionally well cast and since the members of the cast are taking a very serious interest in the plays success.

With veterans like Adeline Samuel, Philip and Imogene Allison and shining young performers such as Frances Walters and Gary Taylor, the play takes on the air of urbanity. Added to this list of hespians is Penny Taylor, who brings to the play fresh enthusiasm as well as a distinct talent.

Katherine Wilson, a genius with brush and pencil is busy executing the special artistic effects for the stage decor for this exciting finale to the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's twelfth season.

Fortunately, the organization termine his heart condition.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Sunny Farmer of Pearlington will miss seeing their smiling faces at all the benefits. The Farmers have rented an apartment in New Orleans and sold out their place on Highway 90.

Gulfview school children were taken to Bay St. Louis Friday by school bus, where they received their 3rd polio shot.

Did I hear a call for help?

All Mississippians should be concerned with Tommy Telephone's predicament: the rising tide of telephone costs which already have him over his depth!

Since 1949, two items — 6 wage rate increases and an income tax increase — have added over $4 million a year to Southern Bell's operating costs in Mississippi... and cost increases connected with additional investment account for another rise of $3½ million a year.

Against this increase in yearly costs, additional revenue from rates amount to about $3½ million a year — failing by $4 million a year to keep pace with our increased costs!

That's why we have asked the Public Service Commission to make a thorough study of our revenue needs... and to set rates that will be fair to telephone users and to the Company. Yes, we need fair rates so we can continue to provide present telephone users with the best possible service, and to expand our network at the same time to provide for the State's growing telephone needs.

Three other games are slated for Mississippi Gulf Coast's A-A, B-B schools tonight—Ocean Springs at Leakesville, O. L. V. at Long Beach, Vanleave at d'Iberville. All tilts are set for 8 p.m.

Pass Christian Pirates were slated for a Thursday night contest with the Perkinston AHS Bulldogs at A. L. May Stadium. Notre Dame of Biloxi sports an open date.

While St. Stanislaus enjoyed an open date last weekend, the Bay High Tigers were clawed fast and quickly by a victory-hungry Petal Panther squad—and went down to a surprising defeat, 19-7, in a conference game at Petal Friday night.

Lance Lumpkin's Tigers suffered a full blow when the all-star services of halfback Henry Monti were lost just before halftime due to an injury. Monti never re-entered the game, but is expected to be in the Moments later Tiger halfback Monti, groggy from an earlier hard-tackle, fumbled a hand-off from quarterback Grady Perkins and Petal's Billy Williams picking up the pigskin and prancing 34 yards for the marker. A sleepy Tiger line lived to block the punt. Petal 13 Bay High 0 at intermission.

Perkins, giving another outstanding performance for the local eleven, figured in the tiger's final frame rally with his steady carries placing the ball in scoring distance.

Raymond Strong then restored the Tiger's hopes by crashing over from the one yard line. Wayne Alliston, also instrumental in Bay High's marches, scooted around right end for the extra point, putting the Tigers within striking distance, 7-13.

The Panthers, seated on the bottom, of the 13-team DeSoto conference, struck back with a hard-hitting drive that clicked downhill with Smith jaunting the final ten yards with the touchdown that injured Petal of their second victory.

Five other battles were fought last Friday night.

Long Beach's Bearcats put a damper on the spirits of the Notre Dame Rebels by whitewashing the defending Gulf Coast conference champs 25-0, in a league battle.

Jerry Daniel's two touchdown and one point after sent his seven-game contributions to 103 points for Long Beach, whose lone setback was to Bay High.

The Bearcats now share the league's top position with Pass Christian, who also chalked up a 2-0 record by defeating the Our Lady of Victories. Eagles 19-6 on the Pirates' field. Dropping the season opener to Bay High the Pirates sailed to five straight victories, longest streak on the coast.

In three other Friday games Hazlehurst rapped O. C. Springs, 31-6; Perkinston AHS's Bulldogs dropped their fifth game of the season, 13-8; Vanleave again topped Basin

PROMISES KEPT

It is usually a rare instance when a political campaign promise is kept, but when our present Sheriff, Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., ran for office three of the promises he made to the people of this county were:

- There would be no "speed traps" on our highways
- There would be no "rackets" or racketeering in our county
- That he would keep the sheriff's office open 6 full days per week during the sale of auto license tags, and that he would sell tags throughout the county to make it more convenient for purchasers.

All of these promises we are happy to say HE HAS KEPT

NO SPEED TRAPS

Neither the sheriff, his deputies, nor any of the constables of this county have been participating in chasing speeders on the highway. It will be recalled that our former sheriff had over twenty deputies in the county, and very few of them received any salary, so it became common practice with a number of them to make a "run" out on the highway, pick up a few speeders, and their days work was done, and their "work" rewarded. In fact, they "saturated" the highway. This practice made money for the deputies, costs for the Justices of the Peace, a small fine for the county, but plenty of had will and publicity for Hancock County. Mr. Sheriff, we thank you for keeping your promise.

NO "RACKETS" OR RACKETEERING

Under our former sheriff Hancock County had plenty of "rackets" and racketeering, and even the "PINES" or OASIS, and this county received State and Nation-wide publicity (all bad) and we were invaded several times by the National Guard, but we were promised this would end—and it did. Thank you, Mr. Sheriff.

CONVENIENCE TO TAG PURCHASERS

The offices in our county courthouse have been closing on Wednesday afternoons and Saturday afternoons for some years, and this practice makes it hard for taxpayers to buy auto tags and pay property taxes during the one month allowed for them to do so (without being assessed with a penalty for delay), and particularly is it hard when the courthouse remains closed two afternoons out of each week.

Realizing this, we were promised that during tax-paying time for tags and other property, that our new sheriff would keep the sheriff and tax collector's office open six full days. This, we are happy to say, has been done. In addition, our sheriff has personally spent days in convenient sections of the county to sell automobile tags to purchasers who would lose time from their work to drive all the way to the Bay to buy them. Reports from throughout the county have indicated that this practice has been deeply appreciated.

Sylvan, you are to be congratulated on making these promises—but, most of all, on fulfilling them.

County Agent Notes

Hay Grinding - A Mistake

If you are grinding hay with cow rations, you are making a mistake. Grinding actually lowers the value of the hay mainly because ground hay moves too rapidly through the cow's digestive system.

Test have shown that the fat held this year in Mississippi.

cows are on rations containing all ground roughage, or small amounts of roughage.

Feed tests show that grinding reduces the digestion of fiber by more than a third.

Although some feed dealers have been forced by demands from dairymen to install grinding equipment, the dairyman who keeps on grinding his hay will soon discover that he is actually grinding up dollars.

Lambs

Many farmers are buying lambs from the West to finish on grazing and market next spring. There will be a demand for these Mississippi light-weight lambs that do not have enough finish for the packer buyer.

One at Macon November 7, and the other at Greenville, November 9th.

It will probably pay to market lambs grading good and choice and weighing 75 to 80 pounds. If they do not meet these specifications by sale date, and good small grain or ryegrass grazing is available, graze the lambs until next spring.

Many farmers are buying lambs from the West to finish on grazing and market next spring. There will be a demand for these Mississippi light-weight lambs that do not have enough finish for the packer buyer.

If you own this type of lamb and have enough good grazing to carry them, it will likely pay you to graze them through the winter rather than sell them now to your neighbors.

Wild Fires

Fire can be a deadly enemy. Once out of hand, it can destroy your woods, your frosted grass pastures, your barns, your tenant houses and even your farm home.

It will pay you to be extremely careful in any burning done on the farm. It will also pay to construct fire lanes around all pastures that border public roads. Further insurance would be to cut fire lanes around stacked hay, barns and farm buildings.

If you feel that you must burn off an area, see your county agent or area forester for information on reducing the danger of the fire getting away from you.

Cattle Lice

Don't feed cattle lice this fall and winter. These pests can build up to dangerous numbers. They have been known to kill animals. You can keep your cattle free from lice by spraying or by keeping your homemade backrubber well charged with insecticide.

See your county agent for details on controlling cattle lice.

Soil Testing

Farming without fertilizer is not profitable. Using too much or too little fertilizer also cuts down on the profit. About the only way you will know how much fertilizer to use, is for you to take soil samples and send them to the state soils testing laboratory for analysis.

Now would be a good time to collect samples from land to be planted next spring. Beat the rush and do it now.

JERLON D. LADNER IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENT AT GULFPORT SATURDAY

According to investigating officers, Ladner was forced to stop suddenly and a 1947 Oldsmobile driven by Norman D. Noble, Gulfport, ran into the rear of Ladner's Ford.

"America prospers only when all Americans prosper!"

Dwight D. Eisenhower

Today, Americans are enjoying the benefits of a new, even higher standard of living... the highest the world has ever known!

This prosperity is no future dream—it's right here now—and it is the purpose of this administration to keep and expand it!

We are getting government out of competition with our own businessmen. We are encouraging labor to get its share without government interference. We have opened the door to more jobs, higher pay and better times for all. For "America prospers only when all Americans prosper!"

Specifically, here are some of the things your Republican Administration is doing:

Employment up 4 million

During this Republican Administration

nearly 67 million Americans have become gainfully employed, four million more than under the previous administration. A record number of new, permanent jobs is being created every day!

Highest wages in history

Under Ike's policies the average family income, after taxes, has risen 9%. This is the best example of how widespread our prosperity really is. Most of our people are now enjoying the kind of prosperity and security men have always striven to achieve.

Inflation has been checked

By decontrolling wages, prices and materials, we have greatly increased national income and production without a corresponding increase in prices. Since 1952, the change in the cost of living has been held well under 3%—as against a 50% increase under the previous administration.

Social Security extended to millions

This administration has extended Social Security to 13 million more people than were covered in 1952. Benefits paid to retired workers have been increased and greater security for survivors has been provided.

As for the future, we can promise one thing: The present administration will continue to advance the cause of higher and higher prosperity for all Americans.

Hospital Orientation Course Held

The Orientation Course for Volunteer Hospital Workers was held October 24, at the Gulfport Division of the Veterans Administration Center.

This course is held twice each year at the Gulfport division for the purpose of presenting opportunities that are available for workers to render volunteer services.

Volunteer workers are classified in two sections, organizational and individual. Individuals need not be affiliated with an organization to offer their services.

James T. Lee, Jr., Chief of Personnel Division, stated that there were 10,000 hours of volunteer services given last year at the Gulfport division.

Dr. E. R. Bennett, Director of Professional Services and psychiatrist of the Gulfport division lectured on Understanding of Neuro-Physiologic Patient and the hospital.

Carl R. Fridlund, Chief of Mr. Bourgeois' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Bourgeois.

Mrs. Stanley Weidman and daughter, Debbie spent Tuesday in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Damians and daughter, Carolyn spent several days last week in Jackson visiting their son, Walter who is a student at Mississippi College.

Mr. and Mrs. Nat Dawman of Orange, Texas, were guests last week of Mrs. Dawman's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Yarborough and infant son Ricky are now at their home on Nicholson Ave.

Mrs. Effie Mazarakis is a patient at Memorial Hospital, Gulfport where she underwent major surgery on Monday.

She sincerely hopes that Mrs. Effie will soon be able to rejoin her pupils and fellow teachers at the Waveland School.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bourgeois have returned to their home in New Orleans after spending a week's vacation with Where are your garden tools? Your hoes and rakes and spray ers and hose? All clean and put away out of the weather. Well, good for you.

But for you who have to answer, "On the garden fence," "In the back yard," or "I don't know," let this hint be a dollar saver for you.

Rust and rain and freezing can ruin tools and garden supplies. Your galvanized iron hand sprayers can rust out over winter if you don't rinse them thoroughly and keep them in a dry place. Rinse with clean water or a milk ammonia solution, then open up and hang upside down.

A neglected hose with water inside may spring a leak in freezing weather. So empty your hose, roll it up and store away. It won't be hard to take out for washing the car or some other job on a mild day.

Clean mud off all tools, rub with a little wax to prevent rust and store in a dry place. Get everything sharpened, including the lawn mower, so they will be ready for use.

November Plantings

Pork, turkeys and potatoes are headlines on November's plentiful foods list of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Other plentiful main dish items are beef, broilers and fryers. To complete your menu you will find good supplies of eggs, pears, cabbage, milk and dairy products, peanut butter, fish sticks, rice, dates and cranberries.

More heavy than lightweight turkeys will be available. Thus, the big bird will be the economy buy if you have even space and space in your refrigerator or freezer to store leftover cooked turkey meat for quick convenient use. The proportion of meat to bone is larger in big birds and generally the price per pounds is lower.

This is the season when hamburger or pot roast type of beef is most plentiful. But toward the end of November more of the higher-grade beef is expected.

Hot Turkey Salad

2 cups cubed cooked turkey or chicken

2 cups sliced celery

1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing

1 cup chopped toasted almonds

2 tablespoons lemon juice, fresh, frozen or canned.

2 teaspoons grated onion

1 teaspoon salt

1 cup grated American cheese

1 cup crushed potato chips

Combine ingredients except cheese and potato chips. Toss lightly. Pile lightly into individual bakers or custard cups. Sprinkle with grated cheese and potato chips.

Bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees) for 10 minutes. This recipe makes five to six servings.

Dishwashing Time

Washing dishes for a family of four takes over a month's work each year. Over one-half this time can be saved through at you work out short cuts. Convenient arrangement of your work place can save 50 miles of walking each year.

(That 20 to 30 days saved could be used to handle 35 to 85 hens and bring in some cash income.

Enrollment of new members also will be sought during this campaign. All members who have paid their 1957 dues will be eligible to win a prize that will be drawn at the November meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary.

"We hope to have our membership ranks for 1957 filled by Nov. 8 so that from then on we can concentrate our efforts on the constructive services work of our organization," Mrs. G. C. Romanoff, president of the Auxiliary, declared.

Mrs. Romanoff extended an invitation to come into the Auxiliary to all eligible women of the city. Eligible for membership are wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of American Legion members, those of persons who died in service during the World Wars or Korean conflict, and those of deceased war veterans, as well as women who themselves served with the armed forces in any of the three wars.

Most hunting accidents are caused by hunters with inadequate vision, according to the Mississippi Optometric Association.

"The Minnesota Safety Commission studied 93 hunters involved in accidents and found that 77 per cent had vision problems," said Dr. May, president of the Association.

"Hunters with accident records were deficient in visual acuity, color recognition, muscular balance and depth perception. Almost all were unaware of their visual shortcomings."

Vision standards were set by physicians, optometrists and safety authorities, and 52 per cent of a cross-section of licensed hunters met all requirements compared to only 23 per cent of hunters with accidents.

"Good vision is essential to success as well as to safety," said Doctor May. "Usually it can be brought up to par, or, if not, the hunter should know his shortcomings and make allowances for them."

Hold Meeting To Discuss Egg Laws Recently Passed In Miss.

Two meetings were held Tuesday at Hancock county's Agricultural Center Building, New Calise Ave., to acquaint egg producers and handlers with a new law which became effective yesterday, Howard F. Simmons, Hancock's agricultural agent, said.

A morning meeting was held at 10 o'clock for the producers and a second meeting for the handlers of eggs, was held at 7 o'clock Tuesday night.

Joe Branch, from the Commissioners of Agriculture of the state in Jackson, was the speaker and discussed the new law at length.

"The law is designed to promote the development of the poultry and egg industry of Mississippi and to protect producers, distributors, and consumers of eggs," Branch said.

"The new law does not suppress misrepresentation and false advertising," Branch said. "The dealer, retailer, and the consumer have the opportunity of getting the quality and size of eggs that meet their needs," Branch pointed out. Branch commented further that "the building of confidence of the consumer in her ability to purchase graded eggs will undoubtedly lead to an increase in consumption of eggs, this in turn will reflect to the advantage of the producer and distributor of eggs. The retail distributor will benefit through the elimination of unfair competition, which has existed when low quality eggs were offered for sale as fresh eggs, or when eggs were offered at a low price with no indication relative to size. In the past, more advertising space and sales effort have been directed to the sale of low priced, poor quality, soiled and small eggs, than has been given to promoting the sale of high quality eggs."

which builds business through satisfied customers," the Jackson agricultural official said. A demonstration was conducted on grading and handling of eggs. The eggs were graded into A, B, and C grades and into large, medium and small groups. It was pointed out that all cartons containing eggs for resale purposes must be marked as to grade and size.

In the handling demonstration particular emphasis was placed on poor quality shell, blood spots and air bubbles within the egg. Temperatures are another important factor in the quality of the egg, Branch said. "In order for the eggs to reach the consumer with interior quality good enough to permit them to be sold as top grade eggs, they must be cooled properly and kept cool from the time they are laid until they reach the consumer," Branch concluded.

THE WORLD OF NATURE

By JOHN FRAZIER
(Conservationist)

Mississippi Southern College

The season for hibernation is approaching. The process of hibernating is practiced by many animals that live two or more years, yet have no provision for maintaining active life during the adverse circumstances of winter. The chief reason why any animal hibernates seems to be that the temperature gets too low for the adequate functioning of his body or his food supply becomes insufficient. There may be other reasons.

The word hibernation simply means winter sleep. It is derived from the Latin word "hibernus" which means winter. There is a difference between ordinary sleep and the long, profound sleep of winter. While this differs in different types of animals, it covers a season instead of a day or night period. Certain hibernating mammals as chipmunks and gophers wake up on warm days of winter and eat stored food. Other warm blooded animals remain asleep throughout the winter as polar bears, badgers, skunks and others. They live on the stored fat in their bodies. Their weights are greatly reduced during the period of hibernation.

In case of warm blooded animals, which includes birds and mammals, the body temperature is reduced to a very low degree, especially if the sleep is to last all winter. Breathing is almost imperceptible and the pulse rate is slow and difficult to detect. Only one bird has ever been found hibernating. It was a poor-will in the southern part of the Rocky Mountains. It is a relative of our Chuck-Wills Widows and the Whip-Poor-Will.

The cold blooded animals have temperatures just above that which they would freeze. In some cases this is about the freezing point of water. Their temperature is usually slightly above that of the immediate surroundings.

WINTER HOMES OF SNAKES

Reptiles, being cold blooded animals, thrive better in tropical and subtropical regions. Some have become adapted to the temperate zones and are found as far north as southern Canada. In case of the more northerly species, they have to hibernate on account of both temperature and food. Their period of hibernation is much longer than that of warmer climate forms. Most snakes have found their winter home before the first killing frost reaches their region. In warm climates no hibernation is necessary as in tropical and sub-tropical regions.

Already the snakes of the northern part of the United States and the higher altitudes of the Rocky Mountains and the Appalachian Mountains are under cover. Those in the Gulf States may still be active but will be hidden away soon.

Sites chosen by snakes are usually spaces not otherwise occupied under the ground or under objects on the ground which offers them adequate protection from the cold and other hazards. In rocky regions, spaces under ledges of rocks are commonly chosen. The larger snakes usually choose large openings, where several can be accommodated.
